SECURITY

To ensure that the data you submit on our website is protected, our website uses Secure Socket Layer (SSL) certificates which allows us to encrypt all data sent and received from and to our website. As you access the SEC website, you will see the padlock in your browser's security display indicating the transfer of all data between your browser and our site has been encrypted.

The payment card details you enter are transmitted to Realex Payments, a secure online payments provider, and is not retained on this site. Realex Payments are compliant with the highest level of Payment Card Industry Data Security Standard ("PCI DSS"). PCI DSS is an industry-wide set of requirements and processes to help ensure that cardholders can make payments confident in the knowledge that their credit card information will be protected. All information that is transmitted to Realex Payments over the internet is protected to ensure confidentiality. Cardholder information is encrypted and hashed when stored on Realex Payments systems and is not displayed in their reporting systems.
